

80 Years of Austin Delivering Excellence

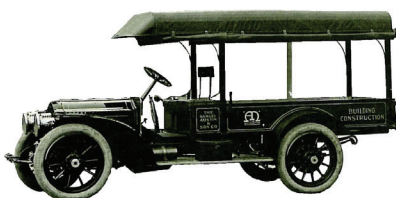

Established in 1938, Austin is home to a comprehensive set of Consulting, Design, Engineering, Management and Construction services.

2018 is a special year for The Austin Company as it marks 80 years of operations in the UK. I often wonder what Samuel Austin would think if he knew that 66 years after leaving his beloved Grantham, Lincolnshire, the company he successfully established in Cleveland USA would be opening its very own subsidiary in his homeland. Austin Engineers Builders Ltd was incorporated on 17th August 1938, two years after Samuel's death and this year it is proudly celebrating 80 years of delivering excellence to its customers.

Our success at Austin depends on our client's success, hence innovation is part of our company's ethos and belief. We pride ourselves in delivering practical and workable solutions for our clients, following safe, consistent and ethically defined methods. For the past 80 years, The Austin Company has excelled in providing its customers facilities that have increased their productivity and efficiency, whether they manufacture or research lifesaving medicine

I am privileged to continue Samuel's legacy and honoured to employ 50 enthusiastic, skilled and dedicated professionals at The Austin Company of UK Ltd. As a team, we are proud of our collective creativity, innovation and determination to provide the best service available.

We look forward positively to our next mile stone in twenty years' time, and much further ahead, contributing to our clients' success by building tomorrow's technology today. Our approach of Delivering Results, Not Excuses will always be at the forefront of our goals.
